School Directors' Report

FEBRUARY 1, 1921 TO FEBRUARY 1, 1922

During the past year the crowded condition of the Hill School and the Main Street school made it necessary to open and furnish an additional room in each building.

In the Hill building the additional room was opened in what is known as the "West Wing." This wing had been closed for the past six or seven years and reopening it necessitated repairing the roof of that portion of the building, as well as the hall and stairs leading to it, together with the construction of a suitable entrance. The new room was finished off with beaver board, and the lack of heating apparatus of any kind required the installation of radiators.

The only other improvement to the Hill building during the year was the repair of the outside steps leading to the primary grade and the installation of two additional heating coils in grades four and six. The stairway in question having become unsafe, was reconstructed and a substantial guard rail and roof were added. The general condition of the building and the health of the pupils demanded the installation of the additional radiation in grades four and six.

In the Main Street building, the rear room on the third floor, known as the "Fire Escape Room," and which had been unoccupied for the past two years, was reopened. This necessitated the purchase of some additional desks, since the most of the equipment of this room had been previously utilized in the Hill building and in Whipple Hollow.

These two rooms required the employment of two additional teachers.

Window shades were repaired or replaced wherever necessary in both the Hill and Main Street schools, and a long felt want in these buildings was partially supplied when electric lights were installed in the Main Street building.

The increased attendance in the High School, especially in the Commercial Department required an additional class room and additional seating accommodations in assembly. To supply the latter we purchased about sixty new chairs for use in assembly and in the class rooms.

The new class room was provided in the dining room in the basement, a folding partition being used in order to preserve the room for use as a dining room to the town hall. The passage to the new room was ceiled with beaver board to comply with the sanitary requirements.

The Domestic Science Department has been improved by the addition of tables and sewing machines and in the Commercial Department, worn out typewriters have been replaced.

Owing to the great increase in the number of students in the Commercial Department, it became impossible for one teacher to give each subject the time required. Part of the commercial subjects were therefore transferred to the mathematics teacher, and an additional teacher was engaged to teach the sciences.

In September, 1921, the special course in writing, which required an extra teacher, was discontinued.

Miss Margaret Davine, teacher in the Main Street building has been granted a leave of absence for one year, and Miss Agatha Kenney has been engaged for one year to fill the vacancy.

We regret to announce the resignation, during the past year of Miss Flora Bowker, teacher in the Whipple Hollow school, of Miss Catherine Davine, music teacher and of Miss Margaret Dwyer, teacher in the Hill school. The vacancies were filled by the employment of Miss Catherine Mumford, Miss Marion D. Hall, music teacher, and Miss Cecelia Groonell.

The Board has already announced to the teachers that in the future the teachers will not, for any cause, other than illness be released from the obligations of their contract.

We cannot too strongly impress upon the citizens, and especially upon the parents, our desire that they visit the schools frequently and witness them in operation. Such cooperation on their part, with the teachers and with the Board, would have a wholesome and beneficial effect upon the discipline and efficiency of the schools, at the same time furnishing an opportunity for suggestion and criticism by reason of the closer observation of modern educational methods.

Respectfully submitted,

J. P. LEAMY,
T. A. MULLANEY,
C. F. FLEMING, M. D.
School Directors

Health Officer's Report

During 1921, the following communicable diseases have been reported to the health officer: Chicken-pox 11, diphtheria 2, measles 10, scarlet fever 8, small-pox 2.

During the year 1921, out of the school year 1920-21, 779 pupils were inspected with 530 found defective. Classification of defects noted reveals 472 with defective teeth, defective throat 106, vision 82, hearing 2, mentally deficient 3, enlarged thyroid 2, skin disease 2. While many of the defective teeth were "milk teeth" and are temporary, so many children are found with chronic abscesses of the tooth root where the child is constantly swallowing pus, that I am convinced of the need to take better care of the temporary teeth. Most of the children have faulty posture, thus growing to be "round shouldered" and hollow chested. A proper bony frame-work is needed for health and strength and parents and teachers should encourage all children in their care to keep the head erect and the shoulders back.

Respectfully submitted,

BERN D. COLBY, M. D.,
Health Officer, District No. 7.
